WASHINGTON.

Probable Veto of the Silver Bill--Butler and Kellogg to be Seated---The Deficiency Bill.

WASHINGTON, November 22.—The Post's special says: The President, in conversation with a prominent officer within forty-eight hours, declared unhesitatingly that he would veto any silver bill which does not expressly except the public debt from its operations. He will not approve any measure which has the slightest tendency to impair the national credit, or to cause the holders of national securities to think that they will be paid in currency of less value than gold.

The Committee on Privileges and Elections voted this morning 6 to 3—a strict party vote—instructing the chairman to report to-morrow to seat Kellogg as Senator from Louisiana for the long term.

The Senate Committee on Postoffices have had Wyckersham, Postmaster for Mobile, under fire for two days, with no result.

The House considered private bills.

It now appears that the decisive vote of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections was not taken. The vote, however, is considered as indicative that Spofford and Kellogg are each to be allowed half an hour for argument this afternoon, when there will be two elaborate reports, requiring several days for preparation.

WASHINGTON, November 22.—The pressure is tremendous on the Senatorial question, and the impression prevails that should the question be forced early next week the result will be the seating of Butler from South Carolina and Kellogg from Louisiana. It is known that Senator Conover, of Florida, will vote throughout for seating Butler, and as at present advised will not vote for seating Kellogg. Conover's friends say of him that his action in these cases is entirely of his own volition and must not be construed that he is going over to the Democracy. They claim for him that he has maintained a consistent record and will be firm, notwithstanding the pressure brought to bear upon him, and, while a Republican, he has the honesty and courage to do that which his own judgment dictates is right. He believes General Butler entitled to a seat as duly elected, and will therefore vote for him as persistently as he did for Mr. Pinchback.

HOUSE.—The motion to reconsider the vote of yesterday, defeating the amendment of Waddell, of North Carolina, to appropriate $70,000 for mail routes other than railroad and steamship lines, was defeated, and the deficiency bill passed without that provision.

Bills were introduced by Hunter, of Virginia, for the payment of the full value of cotton seized by the Treasury officials after May, 1865; and by Vance, of North Carolina, for fast mail service between Washington and several Southern cities.

The debate on the bill to repeal the resumption act was closed by a strong speech in its favor by Ewing, of Ohio. The House adjourned without final action on the bill.

SENATE.—Edmunds' motion to insert the name of Kellogg instead of Butler, in the pending resolution to discharge the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the further consideration of the case, was defeated, yeas 30 nays 31.

Conkling then submitted an amendment, that the Committee on Privileges and Elections be directed to report in the matter of Kellogg and Spofford, and in the meantime the South Carolina case be postponed. Rejected by a vote of 32 to 30.

Edmunds then submitted a motion to discharge the committee from further consideration of the Kellogg and Spofford case. Rejected—30 to 32.

Edmunds then moved that further consideration be postponed to Monday. Rejected—30 to 31.

Edmunds moved that the Senate adjourn to Monday. Vote 31 to 31. Conover in this instance voted with the Republicans, and the Senate adjourned to Monday by the vote of the Vice President.

Ex-Governor Packard, of Louisiana, had lunch with the President this afternoon, and spent two hours with him in conversation about the situation.

Health of the Pope.

LONDON, November 22.—A special to the Times, dated Rome, November 21st, says: "The Pope received some French Pilgrims yesterday. He spoke a few words with great difficulty. The feebleness of his voice, and his suffering, which was apparent, made a melancholy impression. He was carried by four chairmen.

Trial of Rioters.

SUNBURY, PA., November 22.—The jury in the case of the Shamokin rioters, tried here this week, this morning rendered a verdict of guilty against Goss and Neely, and acquitted Finity, Ebeight, Richards and Campbell, who plead guilty before the jury retired.

The Deadwood Excitement.

DEADWOOD, November 22.—Company C, seventh cavalry, have arrived. Supported by the soldiers the sheriff demanded the entrenched miners to surrender. Great excitement exists among the miners throughout the Gulch, although no disturbance has been made beyond hooting at the soldiers.

The Cuban Expedition.

NEW YORK, November 22.—Aldama, confidential agent for Cuba, attaches no importance to the rumor that the expedition fitting out is intended for Cuba.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

From the Seat of War--Situation in France.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Grand Duke Michael entered Kars on Monday and received the homage of the inhabitants.

Typhoid fever is spreading in town.

The Oldham strike is ended, the masters withdrawing notices of the reduction of wages. The statement indicates that the stock holders will be the only losers.

The operations near Rutschuk, reported by the Russian and Turkish bulletins, indicate a disposition on the part of the Turks to attempt a repetition of Mehemet Ali's tactics for relieving Plevna by the threatening of the Czarewitch's army and the Danube crossings. The Turks have repeatedly asserted that the Czarewitch's force has been materially weakened in order to strengthen other positions. Suleiman Pasha seems to be still in command on the Lom.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—The Republique Francaise (the Gambetta organ) demands President MacMahon to summon a congress of the Senate and Deputies to put an end to the crisis. Difficulties are reported this morning to have arisen in the formation of the new cabinet relative to the ministry of the interior and ministry of justice, for which M.M. De Welch and Depeyr are respectively proposed, and other appointments in their stead must be made.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 22.—The Steamer J. B. Walker, from New Haven, with a cargo of arms and ammunition for the Turkish Goverment, arrived here yesterday.

PITTSBURG RIOTERS.

Strange Presentment of the Grand Jury.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 19.—The grand jury made their special presentment to the quarter session to-day on the subject of the July riots in this city. The grand jury severely censures the conduct of the railroad, State and military officers, and throughout manifest sympathy with the rioters, and in the summaries of their deliberations they say:

First, That by cool judgment, civil authority and practical good sense the strike could have been controlled and bloodshed prevented.

Second, That the riots followed inevitably the conduct of the military, too largely controlled by railroad officials, and culminating in a frightful massacre.

Third, That there was not sufficient authority for the presence of the Philadelphia troops, nor for the important proclamation and others issued in the name of the Governor.

Fourth, That if the civil authorities of the State had been present, or the conservative advice of the citizens listened to by the soldiers, the calamity might have been averted.

Fifth. That the frightful condition of society on Sunday afternoon was the result of the meddlesome, insolent course of the State officials, civil and military, and that it was the citizens of Pittsburg, who, recurring to the first principles of society, and arming themselves with such primitive weapons as they could obtain, made a street organization, formed themselves into squads, and, under active and energetic leadership, stamped out the lawlessness, arson, and murder that was rampant in some parts of the city, and threatened to engulf all.

This completes a review of the events we have been instructed to inquire into, and that it is not more precise is due to the fact the grand jury has been thwarted openly and privately in its endeavors by those to whom the whole truth should have been a welcome vindication. Its suppression compels the opposite conclusion.

The final incident remains, and that is the arrival here, days after the people of Pittsburg by their national efforts had suppressed the disturbances, of a gallant array of citizen soldiery several thousand in number, gathered at immense expense from every part of the Commenwealth, headed by the commander-in-chief of the army and navy of Pennsylvania, backed by the combined military genius and civic lustre of seven Major-Generals and a host of Brigadiers, waited on by staffs that would far more than have sufficed for an army corps, and far exceeding in numbers the array that followed Sherman in his march to the sea.

The presence of these troops here, long after all danger has passed, was intended as a threat to our citizens and a mark of contumely to the country. Their martial achievements under the lead of the Governor, the Commander-in-chief, have only their parallel in that tremendous military feat of the French King, who "marched his army up the hill, and then he marched it down again."

That display of harmless heroism closed out the Pittsburg riots. Not only were the riots here suppressed more promptly by the unaided power of the citizens than in any other city of the country, but in seeking out and punishing the guilty there has been extraordinary energy displayed by the officers of the law, the courts and the juries. This grand jury has returned indictments against nearly one hundred persons accused of participation in the riots, and there is every disposition that they shall have prompt, impartial and fearless trials.

The Fifth Battalion of Colored Troops.

(Wilmington Review, Nov. 21.)

The commissioned officers of the various colored companies in this District forming under General Orders, No. 17, the Fifth Battalion N. C. S. G., met to-day at Lippitt's Hall. The meeting was called to order by the President, Sol. W. Nash, Senior Captain. First Lieutenant, A. Sampson, of Co. A, was requested to act as Secretary.

General Orders No. 17 and the three last clauses of Sec. III, General Orders No. 4, were then read, after which the roll of the battalion was called as follows:

Company A—Geo. L. Mabson, Captain; Alex Sampson, First Lieutenant; Francis Payne and Thos. E. Scott, Second Lieutenants.

Company B—Sol W. Nash, Captain; Silas N. Dees, First Lieutenant; Henry McRae, David Wiggins, Second Lieutenants.

Company C—Abram Holiday, Captain; Lewis Smith, First Lieutenant; Daniel Buxton, M. N. Levy, Second Lieutenants.

Company D—John Barge, Captain; John Cunnigam, First Lieutenant; Wm. Howe and Wm. Richardson, Second Lieutenants.

Company E—John Cooper, Captain; C. A. Ward, First Lieutenant; Alex. Webb, Second Lieutenant.

Of the above Co. A, is known as the Hanover Light Infantry, Co. B. as the Cape Fear Light Infantry, Co. C. as the Howard Light Infantry, Co. D. as the Fayetteville Rifle Guard and Co. E. as the Charlotte Blues. The Charlotte Blues and Fayetteville Rifle Guard were represented by proxies.

Nominations for the office of Lieutenant-Colonel were then declared in order, whereupon Geo. L. Mabson, Captain of Company A, was the only nominee. The result was 18 votes for Geo. L. Mabsen and 1 vote for Sol W. Nash. On motion the election was made unanimous.

For Major, Abram Holiday, Captain of the Howard Light Infantry, was nominated, he being the only nominee for this position. He received the entire vote, 19, and was therefore declared unanimously elected.

On motion, the meeting then adjourned.

WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA, November 19, 1877.

The Republican party, as organized in this State ten years ago, was a league with the devil and a covenant with hell, to phrase it somewhat after the fashion of the old abolitionists in their gentle expressions of regard and veneration for the Constitution of the United States. Subversive of every sound principle of good government, this North Carolina Republicanism was an innovation upon whatever it did not destroy of law and consitutional liberty. It transformed solemn legislation into a feast of fraud; and in Republican hands the State government became a carnival of corruption. It declared war against the peace, the rights and the lives of the people, and turned loose upon them a desperate and unrestrained army of wretched ragamuffins, outlaws and murderers, to plunder, imprison and slay the citizen. Civil liberty it shackled in her temple, and sovereignty was shorn of her glory in the house of her subjects. War, devastation and ruin threatened the homes of North Carolina, and the law of the land was the will of the Executive servant of the people. "Thus for a season the devil reigned, and the spirit of hell was abroad in the land of Terralbria."*

PROSTITUTION OF THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

Nor did the administration of Federal affairs in the State escape the demoralization of the times. Poisoned at its fountain head, the civil service of the National government attained the extreme limits of total depravity in North Carolina. Wielded for a time by Senator Pool, backed by the then powerful Raleigh clique of Holden, Deweese, Sam Carrow, Long Perry, Ike Young, Bill Smith, Cebe Harris and the colored brother Jim, with other lesser lights revolving around the quarter, New Berne, Wilmington, Greensboro and the west tributary, public patronage was prostrated to the basest purposes, and the practice of open and unblushing fraud was resorted to to perpetuate the power of the radical party and its beneficiaries under what might have been termed at that early day the "Deweese Dynasty" or the "Pool Protectorate." Federal offices were multiplied and distributed as rewards to party zeal. For the campaigns of 1872 [illegible] sors of Internal Revenue" was created and sent forth to labor for the party in behalf of Caldwell and to secure the re-election of Grant. Per diem five dollars and not one hour of service to the Revenue Bureau by this whole horde of vassals and vagrants, vultures and vampires.

OPEN PERPETRATION OF DISGRACEFUL FRAUDS.

The list of "designated Assistant Assessors" is not now accessible, tracks having been put out, and official records at Washington mutilated and smuggled, but in March, 1873, when Tim Lee secured the Collectorship for "me father-in-law," Colonel Young and Major Smith filed the charge in the Treasury Department implicating Cebe and his son* in this fraud, charging upon one that he lived and labored on his farm in Northampton county, yet certified and swore his accounts as an officer on duty at Raleigh; and thus, without a moment of time given to the Government, was paid by the said Young, per orders from Washington, five dollars for every working day from May to November. And the other had his per diem for editing the Radical organ at Raleigh. Whenever this last shall be published, it will display, among prominent local lights of the lesser sort, the colored Demosthenes of the Metropolitan District, and the Honorable John Hyman, colored Congressman. In the sister Carolina the faithful of this fraternity—patriots of the Patterson-Parker stripe—are threatening the penitentiary with their presence, while here they escape the consequence of their crimes to be talked up for missions to Hayti, treated to Collectorships, play the roll of United States Architects, and edit the "central organ" for a party which now has, happily for her good name and fair fame, neither circumference, centre nor existence in the State.

*In the case of this young man, Smith was thus early to assail him to relieve himself of the obligation to have him appointed Postmaster at Raleigh, solemnly made to Tim Lee in consideration for the nomination to Congress in 1872.

THE GREENSBORO RING.

In time the Deweese Dynasty decayed; the Pool Protectorate perished. One chief clasped his carpet-bag and fled the country as silently as he had stolen all the way through it; the other was dethroned by the Peruvian Pretender, a rising rival in the affections of Grant the Gruff. To support the pretensions of the Peruvian, and antagonistic to the Pool Protectorate based on the Raleigh Clique, a sort of Settle Sociable was formed, which in time came to be known as the Greensboro Guild or Ring, and in the sole centre and suppert of the Douglass Dynasty. The Pool Protectorate perished from the face of the earth on the retirement of its patron statesman from the Senate of the United States; and ever since that summer evening, at Hillsboro, in 1874, when sturdy old Tod Caldwell took his last look on earthly things, the Greensboro Ring has had full sway over Federal affairs, and supreme control of the public patronage within this State; and dependent on the Douglass Dynasty have been the destinies of the people of this district. Although Governor Caldwell was not loved at Washington, and had an enemy wherever the Greensboro Ring had a friend, a thief may yet fear most the man whom he hates the worst. And accordingly, under such restraints as nature has placed upon human hardihood, the Greensboro Ring hated and feared Caldwell, and no doubt rejoiced at his sudden taking off, although he died while on a journey undertaken in the effort to save Bill Smith from the consequences of a stigma the Le[illegible]ture had put upon him; when, [illegible] Governor had been at his official [illegible] in the hands of his own physici[illegible] said he could have saved him. [illegible] was an abrupt, plain, blunt, [illegible]est way about Tod Caldwell [illegible]herited from his Scotch-Irish ance[illegible] which was quite unsavory to the R[illegible] manipulator of the "Ring" pers[illegible] Grant early contracted a dislik[illegible] nowise lessened by the exit of Ho[illegible] for the plucky little Governor, [illegible] stranger to fear, cared not a t[illegible] continental for man or mouse, Pr[illegible] or pigmy, politician or puppy, [illegible] his crude notions of official hones[illegible] public propriety. So at a me[illegible] radical rats in Washington, one [illegible] night of 1872, Grant presiding, [illegible] and Pool present, it was resolved [illegible] that naughty old cat, Tod, at [illegible] and Tommy Settle was called f[illegible] musty guano holes of Peru to co[illegible] put the bell on. Time chosen, [illegible] of April, 1872; the place [illegible] Grant's little private Secret[illegible] there with the bell. In the [illegible] put it on him, Tod[illegible] Tommy, and turned [illegible] Leach as minor [illegible] tional campaign.

THE TACTICS OF TRADE AND TRAFFICK.

The motto of the Greensboro Ring, emblazoned also on the crown and coat of arms of the Douglas Dynasty, is "make hay while the sun shines" [illegible] and it fitly exemplifies the code which has regulated the Federal service of this District, as well as appropriately characterizing the performances of the Radical Ring at Guilford Court House. As a device it designated the place where was exchanged Federal patronage for political power. This sort of bargain and barter, trade and traffick, has been the work and sole daily occupation of the Greensboro Ring from its very formation. By the laws of affinity it drew the carpet bag element of the State with Keogh, Ball and Tourgee. A truce with trouble secured the allegiance of Holden and Ike Young, who only wanted to be let alone in their little offices at Raleigh. It united Badger through the department of justice where it had placed Sam Phillips as the "friend at court." Bill Smith, it controlled with the Receivership of the Western North Carolina Railroad. To build on the Logan Scoggins foundations is the Rutherford section it made Cebe Harris a Government Architect. Its favorite, Tourgee, supposed to be a little nearer the negro than any white man in the State, it pensioned in Raleigh. Thus it manipulated and ramified the State. Wherever there was a Federal officer in North Carolina, the Greensboro ring secured a striker. But it has not always kept the faith. The Asheville or Western wing, playing occasionally "fast and loose" with it, the Greensboro ring has "played" the Western wing "like a flute." To demolish Dockery and utterly annihilate the Prince of the Pee Dee, it covenanted and agreed, and by such covenants and agreements, bargained and sold, to Jim Henry, the vacancy on the Supreme Bench, and to Jake Bowman, the judgship of the Asheville circuit, in consideration of their support and that of their cliquers and clansmen to the nomination of Judge Settle to be Governor of North Carolina [illegible] Isaac J. Young, Colonel and Aide-de-camp to His Excellency, Curtis H. Brogden, but when, after the love feast, Henry and Bowman called for their Judgeships, the Governor declined to deliver, alleging that he had not been consulted in the trade, and as a dilatory measure, awaiting the action of the Congressional Convention at Goldsboro, Brogden pleaded the principles of "Civil Service Reform" as laid down by Hayes in his letter of acceptance. So Jim and Jake whistled their way home, to the tune of "Hans Breitman gief a Barty, but vere ish dat Barty now!"

INFAMY OF THE INGRATES.

The energy and zealous disgust with which the Greensboro Ring and surviving scavengers of the Raleigh Clique now kicked the dead patron of the Pool Protectorate, and the earnest demonstrations with which the late henchmen and adherents of Pool welcomed the "glorious son of (Radical) York," was but another illustration of the base ingratitude and utter faithlessness of mean, mercenary followers—a Radical retribution from which none of them will escape, who, occupying high and influential position, shall lose the power to provide for their hungry herd. But in this instance the deep degradation of ignominy penetrated beneath the lower strata of infamous ingratitude; for involved in the downfall of Pool was Sam Carrow, who, scrupling at nothing, had mortgaged his estate in the Raleigh banks for fifty thousand dollars, and beggared himself to save the State to Radicalism and Grant. And when Settle had been disappointed in his gubernatorial aspirations, and by Leach defeated for Congress, leaving apparently no future before him—his perpetual hold on the public teat to all appearances broken forever—Carrow besought Governor Caldwell to re-instate Judge Settle on the Supreme Court bench, and he did so.

DECREEING THE DOUGLAS DYNASTY.

Sacred history records of an ancient King that he was so intoxicated by the Terpsechorean performance of an amateur danseuse, that he recklessly promised her anything within the gift of his kingdom, and that she chose the head of an itinerant preacher of the Gospel in high favor with the King; and though sorely grieved, he was constrained to fulfill his promise, so the head came off, and was brought in.

Descending from the sacred to the very profane, Governor Holden returning from the memorable Washington City sojourn, related how President Grant, whose it was, in his day, to dictate Dynasties, strangle States, partition Provinces and place Principalities, one day said to the offshoot of the house of Douglas, "Robert, whenever you desire to return (?) to your State (?) I will give you North Carolina." What pleasing act of graceful flunkeyism this enterprising and promising hanger-on at the White House had performed to win such high favor in the eyes of his lavish patron and regal master, has not been stated, nor was it given out how much Grant subsequently grieved over his rash promise, for it was believed that he loved North Carolina which saved him from Greeley, and Sam Carrow, whom he must behead. But the spirit of self, power and public plunder was supreme in the land, and a Dynasty must be set up at Greensboro to enrich the Douglas, and invest with political power that great public pensioner, the superb Settle.

"THE DOUGLAS IN HIS HALL."

And thus came Ro. M. Douglas to be Marshal of North Carolina. Congress, in the meantime, had divided the State into two Districts, and so it came about [illegible] the people East of Orange county [illegible]aped the oppression, plague, persecution, corruption and despotism of this [illegible]istrict—a Reign of Outrage, under [illegible]hich, for the last four years and more, [illegible]at judicial gall and political wormwood, the Dick-Douglas Dynasty, has [illegible]umiliated, scourged, tortured, racked, [illegible]nvulsed, agonized, robbed, plundered, [illegible]mprisoned and murdered the sovereign [illegible]itizens of Western North Carolina, in [illegible] name of, and under the broad seal [illegible] the United States of America!

"THE SLOW UNMOVING FINGER OF SCORN."

Let it be recorded then, on the permanent pages of unenviable history, that the responsibility for the crimes of this District, both against the government and the people, rests with Thomas Settle, William A. Smith, Wm. W. Holden, Isaac J. Young, Thomas B. Keogh, and such other leaders and men of prominence in the Radical party as have sustained the Greensboro Ring, instead of rebuking, denouncing and [illegible]ating the outrages and crimes of [illegible]ouglas crusade, the procuring and [illegible]g of which Rule of Ruin, and [illegible]t on the people constitutes a [illegible]ation in their infamy as damnable as the guilt of Douglas and his deputies. Let the people of North Carolina remember these outrages and crimes, and the authors thereof, as well as the actors therein; and let the "slow, unmoving finger of scorn" point to these men throughout the entire period of their lives, and dying, leave the contribution of their names to infamous memory.

A South Carolina Election.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 20, 1877.

An election was held here to-day for State Senator and Representative, to fill the vacancies occasioned by the recent resignations of Nash and Minort, colored Republicans, who were compelled to yield to the pressure, on account of the discovery of their rascalities. A significant fact in this election is that one year ago the Republicans polled a vote of 2,000 majority, while to-day there are not twenty-five voting the ticket. Both candidates are Democrats, John H. Kinsler, like a second Cincinnatus, received his nomination for Senator while following the plough. John C. Haskell, for Representative, is a prominent lawyer here and well known throughout the State. Both are elected. Not a single fight or disturbance of any kind has occurred.

Horse Killed by an Enraged Bear.

[Salem Press.]

On Saturday morning, the 10th inst., in the barn yard of Mr. Robertson, near Fulton, Davie county, a horse belonging to a revenue officer was found dead, having been literally disembowelled by a large bear running at large in the yard. One of Mr. Robertson's fine young horses was also badly hurt in a similar manner. The boar was pursued and the animal led them over a mile's chase. After the dogs had brought him to bay he was secured, and in attempting to break off his tusks, which were very large, the animal's jaw was broken, which accident will probably end his existence.

WHAT IS ACCOMPLISHED BY

VEGETINE,

Vegetine will renew the blood, give tone to the stomach, restore the liver to its proper action, stimulate the kidneys so as to enable them to perform the functions devolving upon them, carry off the putrid humors, regulate the bowels and restore the whole system to working order. This is precisely what Vegetine does, and this is the exact way through which it has accomplished so many wonderful cures, as may be seen by the following unquestionable evidence:

A Husband's Statement of the Great Suffering of His Wife.

HARWICH, Mass., Sept. 24, 1875.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—I feel it my duty to say a word in praise of Vegetine. My wife has been troubled with a bad humor for several years, which she inherited from her parents. We have tried several physicians and a great many different kinds of medicine with but little benefit. She was so much emaciated that we had almost despaired of her ever being any better. Hearing of the Vegetine we resolved to try once more, and she commenced using it last March, and has been improving in health ever since. From 104 pounds she has advanced to 135 pounds, having gained 31 pounds in seven months, and is now able to be about her work. In short, she believes that Vecetine has been the means of saving her life, and that she cannot say too much in its praise. If it pleases you to make use of this statement you are at liberty to do so. She has taken fifteen bottles and is still using it, and I can safely recommend it as a great blood purifier.

Yours respectfully, JOSEPH L. BUTLER.

The Wife's Statement.

HARWICH, Mass., Sept. 24, 1875.

MR. STEVENS:

I feel I must say a few words about the Vegetine. The physicians said I had so many complaints they did not know what to give me. They said I had a bad humor, add I had the kidney complaint, the liver complaint, my heart was very weak, and I don't think there is any one who suffered more with the piles than I did. The physicians all said it was no use for me to take medicine, I could not live through the month of May. I truly think the Vegetine has saved my life, and my neighbors say that the Vegetine has really accomplished a wonderful cure in my case, and I tell every one whom I meet it is the best medicine in the world.

Yours, very thankfully, MRS. J. L. BUTLER.

VEGETINE.

Reliable Evidence.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—I will most cheerfully add my test many to the great number you have already received in favor of your great and good medicine, Vegetine, for I do not think enough can be said in its praise, for I was troubled over 30 years with that dreadful disease, Catarrh, and had such bad coughing spells that it would seem as though I could never breathe any more, and Vegetine has cured me, and I do feel to thank God all the time that there is so good a medicine as Vegetine, and I also think it one of the medicines for coughs and weak-sinking feeling at the stomach, and advise everybody to take the Vegetine, for I can assure them it is one of the best medicines that ever was.

SOUTHERN NEWS.

The Virginia and Tennessee Legislatures meet December 5, and on the same day Georgia elects her Legislature.

A Washington correspondent of the Norfolk Landmark expresses a doubt as to the confirmation of Col. Potts and other Virginia appointments, and of the postmaster at Asheville, North Carolina.

Says the Richmond Enquirer: The visit of our Richmond soldiery to Columbia was the first opportunity the South Carolinians have had to reciprocate some of the hospitality that was lavished upon them here during the war. It is the last opportunity, too.

Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier: The Spanish bark Carmen arrived in this port yesterdy. This is the vessel which carried Boss Tweed from Havana to Vigo. Strange to tell, the schooner Frank Atwood, which carried the same notorious individual to Havana, is still in port. The Captain of the Carmen says that Tweed paid him $450 in American gold.

Austin (Texas) Reveille: The Board of County Commissioners yesterday passed the following order: "It is ordered that the sheriff be, and he is hereby, instructed to erect a post in a conspicuous place near the court-house in the city of Austin. The post—a large pine log—was hauled into town this forenoon and dumped in front of the court-

Memphis Avalanche: Eight miles south of Ashland, North Mississippi, a few days ago, Homer V. Hunt was challenged by C. Mason Lane, for saying of a young lady friend of the latter; "How I loathe any girl who is her equal!" He accepted, and as both were excellent shots, the distance was extended from fifteen to thirty-five yards. Hunt was killed and Lane mortally wounded at the first fire.

The determination of Mrs. Gaines to go to Congress for relief in her difficulties, and in order to enforce the surrender of the New Orleans property withheld from her, has caused a quaking in St. Louis. The Republican says "it is said she claims the better part of the best business district in St. Louis also, and some old citizens say that there is at least a shadow of justice in her claim to part of the Southern Hotel block.

Senator Gordon, of Georgia, says that seven cotton mills have been constructed in the South during the past year, and that as a rule their machinery is of the latest and most advanced patterns, built with the certain knowledge that the South in manufactures must compete with the skill and experience of the East and of England. He also says that the mills of the South have been generally successful and the errors and want of experience of the past will doubtless be corrected in the future.

STATE NEWS.

Wild ducks are plentiful in Wilmington.

There is a Liberian Colonization Society at Durham.

The Annual Conference of the Methodist Church meets at Salisbury on the morning of the 28th.

Charlotte Observer: The Swannanoa tunnel, on the Western North Carolina Railroad, is two-thirds completed.

Salem Press: On the first Monday in November, the commissioners paid to the cashier of the First National Bank $11,750 railroad tax, $7,450 of which was collected as taxes this year.

Winston Sentinel: The Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church concluded their labors on last Tuesday night and adjourned. Their next Conference will be held at Yadkin College.

Wilmington Review: The body of Mr. Thaddeus Moore, from Point Caswell, who was drowned from on board the steamer "North East," at her wharf in this city early on the morning of the 6th inst., was found on Saturday last on Snow's Marsh, about four miles above Smithville.

Sam'l P. Smith, of Charlotte, has purchased the old fair grounds and proposes to make of it one of the best race courses in the South. Races came off at this race course this week, Lady Maury, Key West, Sorrell Prince, Dusty and Jock Rouhac were entered.

Wilmington Review: Hon. A. M. Waddell, representative from the Wilmington district, has secured the establishment of two additional life saving stations on the North Carolina coast, one of which, at his own request, will be placed on Bald Head, either at the Cape or in some better position on the Island.

Caldwell, of the Charlotte Observer, has this to say of the 7th of last November: A year ago to-day was the great election, when we elected Tilden President and Vance Governor. My! but those were times! Weren't we proud, though, and weren't there but mighty few of us who were sober a year ago to-night?

Washington was delighted last Thursday night with a grand dress ball, under the management of Messrs. Harman and Calvert.

Charlotte Observer: Seven men of company E, eighteenth infantry, United States troops, arrived in this city last evening, en route, from Morganton to Atlanta, Ga. The company, with the exception of these seven men, was moved from Morganton during the railroad strikes last summer. It has been a long while since a blue coat has been seen on our streets, and the sight attracted some attention.

Salem Press: The first soiree since Salem Female Academy has passed under the management of the present Principal, Rev. J. T. Zorn, came off on Friday evening last. The pastor of the Church in Salem, Rev. Edward Rondthaler, delivered a fervent and edifying prayer at the opening, and Judge Cox, who is now holding our Superior Court, in response to an invitation, made an exceedingly well timed and eloquent closing address.

Washington Press: We join with several of our cotemporaries in recommending that the churches in this State take up collections for the benefit of the Oxford Orphan Asylum on Thanksgiving day. There is no more earnest way of giving thanks than of sharing with the destitute the good things we are blessed with, and we have no more worthy object than the Orphan Asylum. We ask a generous contribution in aid of this noble charity.

AT LAST.

The public is familiar with Ed. Ray, the notorious ex-Revenue official, his character, misdeeds and immunity from punishment. It will be remembered how he was arraigned for the murder of an old man in Ashe county, and how he succeeded in getting his case removed to Judge Dick's court. It will also be remembered that he was arraigned at the late term of Wilkes Superior court for an assault with intent to commit a rape upon a girl twelve years old; and that he made application for a writ of certiorari to remove the case to the Federal court, upon the ground that he was a revenue officer at the time the offence was committed: in other words, that he made the heinous assault "under color of office." This application was heard in the Federal court at Asheville last week; and refused. So that the case will be proceeded with in the Superior court under the laws of North Carolina.

This decision of Judge Dick is as surprising as it is gratifying. At last he seems to have awaked to an appreciation of the true meaning of the United States statute providing for the removal of prosecutions from the State to the Federal Court. The scales have fallen from his eyes. A change has come over the spirit of his dream. His court, perhaps, is no longer to b; "a city of refuge" for revenue offenders. For once, he sees things as they are and gives, this one time, judicial recognition of the rules of law and the eternal principles of justice between man and man. His friends throughout the State will be gratified at this change for the better, and defenceless women within the bounds of his territorial jurisdiction will feel that they are not left wholly at the mercy of revenue

Judge Dick has by this decision demonstrated that there is, at least, one crime that the officers of the revenue department cannot commit with impunity. Men guilty of assault and battery, of manslaughter or murder may flee for safety to his court and rest securely under the shadow of his judicial wing; but even he will turn his back on the rapist. Well, that is something to be thankful for. It was more than was expected of a servile instrument of the revenue department.

This decision establishes a precedent, which if followed in every case under section 643 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, providing for the removal of prosecutions from the State to the Federal courts, would remove the causes of the conflict of jurisdiction. It is the manifest purpose of the statute to permit the removal of those cases only wherein the acts charged were done by revenue officers in their official capacity, in the line of duty; and not by them as individuals; and that when an investigation in the Federal Court discloses the fact that the act charged was not done "under color of office," then the case shall be remanded to the State Court and the prosecution be allowed to go on without further Federal interference. If this were kept steadily in view by Judge Dick, some of the evils complained of in his district, would be removed. The murderer as well as the rapist should be tried and punished in the State Courts. We congratulate Judge Dick that he has at last rendered a righteous decision, and sent a Revenue official to a North Carolina State Court for trial.

THE SILVER BILL.

The silver bill is the great question now occupying the attention of Congress. The bill as it now stands provides for the coinage and issue of the dollar of our fathers at the rate of $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 per month, the same to be legal tender for all manner of debts, public and private, unless otherwise provided by contract.

Upon the passage this bill silver will be immediately increased in value. It will take its place with gold as coin. The bill wisely cuts off speculation in coinage. The profits of the coinage are to be retained by the Government, and set aside till the amount reaches $5,000,000, to be then used as a fund for the purchase of bullion. The profits would arise mainly, of course, from the premium on greenbacks, and if it should continue at about its present rate, over four years would be required to accumulate the $5,000,000.

All propositions to limit the legal tender quality of silver have been voted down, in the Finance committees.

Among the propositions was one to limit the legal-tender quality of silver so that it should be exactly the same as the legal-tender quality of greenbacks. Other propositions related to the amount, which was attempted to be fixed at $50 and at $100.

A proposition to use the $2,000,000 of silver in redeeming greenbacks was voted down in the committee, so that the amount of coinage is added directly to the currency on hand. There will thus be caused a direct and constant inflation of the currency, the effect of which upon the price of greenbacks and the market value of silver can hardly be estimated. Our wisest Democratic statesmen are satisfied that the effect will be beneficial to the country at large although the bondholding class may lose somewhat by this making of the silver dollar equal in value to the gold dollar.

Under the operations of the bill interest on the public debt may be paid in silver. For this reason President Hayes, as will be seen by reference to our telegraphic columns this morning, declares emphatically that he will veto the bill, unless the public debt is excepted from its operations.

THANKSGIVING day will be generally observed in this State. It is well. North Carolina has much to be thankful for this year. The land has been blessed with bountiful crops. We have had neither plague, pestilence or famine; and no election.

THE Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections will report in favor of Kellogg for United States Senator from Louisiana. The carpet-bagger is to rise then, but not at the end of hemp, as would be more in accordance with the eternal fitness of things.

TO YOUNG LADIES.

Pulpit Advice by a Baltimore Minister to the Fashionable Young Ladies of His Flock.

[Baltimore Gazette.]

Rev. S. V. Leach preached at Jackson Square M. E. Church Sunday night to the young ladies of his congregation on the influences of fashionable life. One of the most interesting objects in the universe, he said, was an educated and pious lady. Tremendous powers and possibilities are folded up in her nature. Her words, actions, and affections have influenced statesmen, influenced warriors with superhuman courage, and trained the men whose deeds have shaken the world. Referring to he said he believed that the male and female members of the church had never been more devoted to display than now. An epoch of extravagant attire has been inaugurated, which would make it as difficult for Peter to detect christians by their apparel as walking on the sea. Scripture abounded in admonitions on this subject. Paul writing to Timothy says: "Let women adorn themselves in modest apparel, not with braided hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array, but (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works." Love of display was the fruitful development of sinful pride. It was a standing reproach to a lady's religious profession. A christian lady had once said, "I would rather dress like the wild Indians than answer for the wasted hours that are spent before the glass," and he would like to see every young woman of his church filled with such principles as those words expressed. The

was the only bible that multitudes read, and thousands stumble into perthose professing godliness. It had not been many years since a young lady, who had once been a model of piety, lay on the bed of death, and as the damp gathered on her brow, she had the glittering apparel and jewelry, for which she had renounced the Redeemer, brought in and laid before her. Pointing to them, she exclaimed to her friends: "For things like these I sold my soul." One-half the members of all churches give ten times as much to the Molock of fashion as they give to the support of the church. A minister writing from Saratoga said: "The belle of the season wears one dress that cost more than I ever received during two years for salary, and one set of her diamonds cost more than a mission church."

In conclusion, the speaker besought young ladies to shun the traps of fashionable life which had laid so many on the consumptive's couch. Ruined by submission to the imperious demands of fasbion, how many on the bed of death have wailed out the lamentation of Solomon, "Vanity of vanities, all is vanity."

Abstract of a Sermon Delivered in the Baptist Church of Charlotte, Sunday, November 18th, 1877, by Rev. Theo. Whitfield, on Who are the Baptists?

[Charlotte Observer.]

If it were asked: Who are the Baptists? it might be answered that they are a denomination of Christian numbering more than 75,000 communicants among the white citizens of North Carolina. But what are their peculiarities. In what do they differ from other Christians? To sum up their peculiarities:

1st. In regard to the Scriptures,—they believe that the whole duty of every Christian can be found in the New Testament.

2d. In regard to the members of the church of Christ,—that only those should be who are capable of exercising faith and repentance, and who make a credible profession of this faith in Him.

3d. As to the benefits of the sacraments,—that they are of use to those who are already regenerated, and of no use whatever to those who are not.

4th. As to baptism,—that immersion only is baptism. This is evident from the fact that all the early disciples of Christ were "buried by baptism," and that Christ was baptized in the river Jordan.

But is not close communion a peculiarity of the Baptists? It certainly is not, except this far,—that they seem to be the only denomination condemned and hated for it. All restrict their communion in the Lord's Supper to those whom they consider baptized; they would not invite a Quaker or other unbaptized persons. All that I ask in this matter is honesty. If they believe that our baptism is indecent and wrong, let them treat us accordingly. If we believe their's to be not Scriptural baptism, let us treat them accordingly. Each believing the other right in saving faith, (which is far more important,) but wrong in church matters, let us love each other as children of God—separate in church matters—till our Lord shall judge what is right.

The first Baptist church in North Carolina was organized in Camden county in 1727, by Paul Palmer, a native of Maryland, who was baptized by Owen Thomas, a Welchman, who emigrated to this country at the age of thirty-one years. His predecessor, as pastor of this Welch tract church, Maryland, was Enoch Morgan, also emigrated from Wales in 1701, with his entire church. So the first Baptist churches in this State and in Virginia were organized and presided over by Welch and English ministers, who deemed their baptism and ordination in direct line from churches "whose history runs far back into the ages of antiquity."

Baptists never made much progress in this country until the establishment of religious liberty, partly through their efforts, in 1799. In 1763 there were only 56 Baptist churches in America. In 1876 there were 21,255 regular Baptist churches, and a membership of 1,815,300.

What I have to say is, that we have an honorable history. We are here to testify for Christ, in conjunction with our brethren of other denominations, to the gracious salvation of Christ. Nothing can be more worthy; nothing can be surer of His approbation.

An Open Letter to the Public.

NEW YORK, October 1, 1877.

I have devoted twenty years of patient study to the Liver and its relations to the human body, in search of a remedy which would restore it, when diseased, to its normal condition. The result of that labor has been the production of

TUTTT'S LIVER PILLS.

Their popularity has become so extended and the demand so great as to induce unscrupulous parties to counterfeit them, thereby robbing me of the reward, and the afflicted of their virtues.

To Caution the Public.

and protect them from vile impositions, have adopted a new label, which bears my trade-mark and notice of its entry in the Office of the Librarian of Congress, also my signature, thus;

W. H. Tutt M. D.

TO COUNTERFEIT

Before purchasing, examine the label closely.

THE GENUINE TUTT'S PILLS

exert a peculiar influence on the system. Their action is prompt, and their good effects are felt in a few hours. A quarter of a century of the study of the Liver has demonstrated that it exerts a greater influence over the system than any other organ of the body, and when diseased the entire organism is deranged. It is specially for the healing of this vital organ that I have spent so many years of toil, and having found the remedy, which has proved the greatest boon ever furnished the afflicted. Shall they be deprived of its benefiss, and a vile imitation imposed upon them?

Let the honest people of America see to it that they are not defrauded. Scrutinize the label closely, see that it bears all the marks above mentioned, and buy the medicine only from respectable dealers. It can be found everywhere. Very respectfully,

W. H. TUTT.

THE WEEKLY NEWS is the best weekly paper published in North Carolina. It is only ONE DOLLAR per year, postage paid, contains 32 columns of plain printed news from every section of the country, and important advertisements. Always Cash.

A Song.

O, that we two were Maying
Down the stream of the soft spring breeze;
Like children with violets playing
In the shade of the whispering trees.

O, that we two sat dreaming
On the sward of some sheep-trimmed down,
Watching the white mist streaming
Over river and meadow and town.

O, that we two lay sleeping
In our nest in the churchyard sod,
With our limbs at rest on the quiet earth's breast,
And our souls at home with God!
—Kingsley's "Saint's Tragedy."

NEWS NOTES.

Strakosch made $20,000 on his recent opera season in San Francisco.

When a Boston girl accepts a lover she says, "Beans it's you, yes."

Mr. Hayes meant the civil service order to be taken in a Pickwickian sense.

They are talking about starting a new Democratic paper in Chicago. It is easier to start a newspaper than it is to keep it going.

A Philadelphian forgot that he was summoned to serve on the Grand Jury, but he will not forget that he was fined $200 for his absent-mindedness.

The County Commissioners have ordered a whipping-post to be set up in Austin, Nevada, for the punishment of men guilty of cruelty to women.

In the House Monday, Mr. Chittenden presented a memorial signed by forty-four presidents of national banks, protesting against the passage of the silver bill.

Two deaf mutes were married in Binghamton on Sunday. They will have one advantage in married life. Neither can insist upon having the last word.

N. Y. Herald: Mr. Hewitt will be known in history as Pop Corn. Since the above was written the Philadelphia Bulletin brings one like it, proving that great minds run on the same cob.

Liszt has written a new symphony. He calls the first part "Faust," the second "Marguerite," and the third "Mephistopheles." The last is supposed to represent the exclamation of the auditors on reaching this point of the performance.

What a funny world and what queer people! A Fall River factory girl has gone and dreamed that she would be stricken dumb at a certain hour, and since that time she has not spoken—is unable to utter a syllable, as she says in writing.

The Baltimore American asserts that there is a crusade against dancing in Baltimore society, and nearly all the young ladies who belong to church are excluding that amusement from the parties this season. The German clubs are also poorly patronized this year.

After all, the Pope is not going to die, at least not for the present. He comes of a long-lived race. He is in his eighty-sixth year. One of his brothers lived till he was ninety-five, and another died at ninety-six. The doctors here assert that if the Pope lives past the January cold he may survive ten years longer, or perhaps reach his centennial.

General Schenck says that ex-Chief Justice Chase had no party rectitude; that he was only ambitious; and that to be President he would have been willing to restore slavery and the ocean slave trade. He thinks that Thomas was the greatest soldier of the war and Sheridan the best now living; that Sherman is of little account, and Fremont the greatest of humbugs.

General Hawley says Effingham Lawrence, the new Collector of New Orleans, "is somewhere between fifty-five and sixty years old, but eternally young and rosy, ponderous and handsome, a bon vivant, full of good will to all the world, and, next to friends and honor, loving a good story. Perhaps he isn't quite perfectly-sound as a Republican; certainly he is not a sound Democrat."

Thursday night, in crossing a little mountain stream near Goshen, the Lexington (Va.) stage was washed down by the high water and lodged against a rock near North river. Col. Ross, of Lexington, two drummers and the driver, none of whom could swim, kept on top as the vehicle rolled down stream, and were rescued by a negro felling a tree to them. Three horses were drowned. The express safe, containing $1,000, the mail bags and the baggage, were recovered.

The Philadelphia Evening Telegraph thinks the opposition to Senator Davis' effort to get at an explanation of the Treasury books, proves that no member of the Senate is capable of giving the explanation that Mr. Davis asks for, and that the Senators who assume to be the special champions of the Treasury Department are, if anything, rather less qualified to talk intelligently than some who are more backward in coming forward for the purpose of airing their gnorance.

The Bone and Sinew

Of our country have often—especially about election time—been made the subject of laudation; but when those useful parts of the human structure become too visible in consequence of leanness, they can scarcely be called graceful. The eye delights not to dwell upon angles and ridges in either man or woman. Moreover, extreme emaciation is a sign of imperfect digestion and consequent poverty of the blood. Both these evils are remedied by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which render digestion and assimilation certainties, in consequence of which the blood acquires richness and the body substance. Thus are the hollow places filled up and the angles rounded off. Through the instrumentality of this peerless aid to digestion and promoter of physical well-being, the body rapidly gains in vigor, color returns to the hollow cheek, the appetite improves, nervous symptoms vanish, and a healthful impetus is given to every vital function.

AGRICULTURAL ENGINE AND SAFETY BOILER WAS AWARDED THE

First Premium at Roanoke & Tar River Agricultural Society, 1875. The Gold Medal, over all other Competitors, at the North Carolina State Fair, in 1876.

It is the most perfect and economical in use. The Boiler is of new design, being vertical, yet all the heating surface is entirely covered with water, thus preventing the fire from destroying the tubes as is the case, in a few years, in all upright tubular boilers in which the fire passes through the tubes above the water line, soon destroying the exposed end of the tubes causing them to leak.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——The murder trial absorbed almost all public interest yesterday, and the Court House was thronged with a crowd of eager listeners all day.

——Spectators of the trial in the Court House yesterday, noticed that frequently during the progress of the investigation, the defendant was moved to tears.

——The State Treasurer on yesterday issued Drummer's Licenses to the following firms: T. H. Brodwater & Co., Baltimore, Md., and Thos. Chatterton & Co., New York.

——Four ladies of this city took tea at the house of a gentleman an evening or two since, and the united ages of the four reached the sum at 272 years. All have resided here during their entire lives.

——We were incorrect in stating the death of Patsey Shepherd (col.,) in Thursday's issue. We were told of her death by a reliable informant. She is at present very ill, but has not departed this life.

——A meeting of the Stewards of Edenton Street Methodist Church will be held at the Church on to-morrow (Saturday) evening, at 7 o'clock. Business of importance is to be trausacted, and every steward is earnestly requested to be present.

——Letters addressed to the following persons are held in the postoffice: Mrs. B. D. Stith. Wilson, N. C.; Booty Cotton, Pittsboro, N. C.; Mrs. M. B. Gilchrist, Fayetteville, N. C. and Miss Pauline Morgan, Greensboro, N. C.

——Messrs. Parker & Avery are building a new cotton platform at their office, on Martin street. Lumber is being hauled for a new office to be erected on the McKee lot, Wilmington street, by Messrs. A. C. Sanders & Co.

——The poor man with the three little children, whose sad destitution was spoken of in our columns Thursday, was given a free pass to Danville, Va. yesterday, and departed for that place, where he claimed to have relatives.

——A number of articles donated to the N. C., State Agricultural Society, as premiums, some of which were not awarded, and others which did not arrive until after the Exhibition, were sold at auction last night at Brewster's old stand, on Hargett street.

——Owing to the bad weather Messrs. Battle & Mordecai, Attorneys, have postponed the sales of the lots at the eastern end of Newbern Avenue and those at the corner of South and West streets to Monday next, the 26th. The sale of the latter will take place at 12 M., and of the former at 3 P. M.

——No cases on the docket at the Mayor's Court yesterday. His Honor acted as a pacifier of two irate colored females, who had called each other bad names, and who laid the matter before him. Telling them that probably none of the abusive epithets used were unmerited, he adyised them to make friends, which suggestion they at once acted upon, and left the official presence with their faces wreathed in smiles.

——Three funerals yesterday. Despite the badness of the weather, that of Frank Norwood, a carpenter, long employed by T. H. Briggs, Esq., and well known here, was largely attended. The colored Masons took part in the funeral and turned out in large numbers. Frank Botto, an Italian, who has been an employee of John Weir, Esq., for some time past, was also buried. The name of the other person was not ascertained.

Military Notes.

Information has been received by the Adjutant General that the Buncombe Riflemen, of Asheville, (Co. D, 3rd Battalion N. C. S. G.) have been unable to comply with the law as to equipment, &c., and the Company therefore send their resignations as members of the State Guard. We regret that the Company have been unable to procure their uniforms, and that the aid sought from their people has not been given. The martial spirit now manifested in almost every section of our State, should be encouraged generous contributions by the people for the benefit of their local military. The arms, &c., issued by the State will be at once called in.

Postponement of Sale.

The sale of State Lots in this city, the continuance of which was advertised for yesterday, was postponed by the commissioners, on account of the inclemency of the weather, until further notice. At an early day the remainder will be disposed of.

Abstract of Taxes.

The following abstract of taxes has been received by the State Auditor from Eph. Gaither, Register of Deeds of Davie county:

General Taxes,	$1760.38
Special "	1800.38
School "	2642.96
County "	5664.70

A Pleasant Sociable.

Quite a number of invited guests spent a very pleasant evening at a private residence on Newbern Avenue, yesterday. Refreshments were served, and the younger members of the party enjoyed themselves in various ways, as is their wont on such occasions.

Something Nice.

Mr. F. G. Law, agent, has received at his crockery store, No. 9, Fayetteville street, a fine assortment of silver plated castors, which offers at bottom prices. The style and quality of these goods are unsurpassed.

The prices range from $1.50 to $4.00 and upwards, according to finish.

Wake County Criminal Court.

THURSDAY, Nov. 22, 1877.

Court was opened at 10 o'clock, and the case of State against Andrew Mooningham, charged with the murder of Henry Seawell in September last, was resumed. This was the third day of the trial.

The Judge stated that the evidence of Taylor Earp, on the question "Did you sometimes see Seawell carrying arms in the field in 1876" and ruled out, on the objection of counsel for the prosecution, had been reconsidered, and the witness was instructed to answer the question.

The witness was recalled and answered that he had seen the deceased sometimes with a pistol in his pocket—don't know whether the prisoner was in the field at any of these times or not.

was recalled on cross examination.

Q. Did you have a conversation with Paschal Williams, in Blake's cotton patch, last spring, soon after a heavy rain, while you were setting up cotton, in which you spoke of your father being mad and accusing Mr. Seawell of using improper conduct toward you, and did you not at that time tell Paschal Williams that there was no truth in the charge and that you had told your father so?

A. No; I never told him that.

Rufus Dunn, J. P. H. Russ, John Smith, Col. Wm. E. Anderson, S. C. Pool, Wm. G. Upchurch, John C. Gorman, E. S. Barbee, R. H. Battle, Jr., Wm. Wall, Garry Wall and G. H. Faribault, were examined as to the character of the witness, Blake, and all stated that they knew his character and that it was good for truth and honesty.

MOURNING MIAL (COLORED) CALLED

For the prosecution and testified that Columbia Mooningham said to her, the morning after the killing, substantially what Mr. Blake and Mr. White testified to her saying to them, and also that she exclaimed, "I am in so much trouble it seems like my heart will break;" She was crying bitterly at the time. The cross examination did not materially vary her direct testimony.

JOSEPH BLAKE RECALLED.

Testified in regard to going to Mourning Mial's and why Tom White went with him; gave the conversation with Columbia as given yesterday; had first tried to induce White to go alone, and he said he would some time; then concluded to go himself and asked White to go with him. Witness had made suggestions to the counsel for the prosecution in this trial at their request; was the author of the article in the Observer of September 15th; it was written in consequence of a request of Mr. Woodson to send him items of news.

Q. Did you not, in that article, eulogize Seawell and denounce Mooningham as a murderer?

A. I don't think I denounced Mooningham as a murderer. (Witness repeated, according to his recollection, what the article contained.) That Mooningham had attacked Seawell with an axe; that Seawell was a man of good moral character and that Mooningham was the contrary.

(Here the note from Blake to Griffis in regard to hiring Mooningham, and Griffis's answer, was produced and read. The contents of the note have been given, substantially, already.)

THOMAS WHITE CALLED AND SWORN.

Gave an account of his going with Mr. Blake to see Columbia Mooningham at Mourning Mial's, the day after the killing, which agrees with what Mr. Blake testified to on the same subject.

CROSS EXAMINED.

Knew Seawell slightly; had seen him sometimes.

Q. Tell what you told John Pool and his wife in regard to what you heard Seawell say to Columbia at the store and what Seawell said to you about her.

A. Columbia Mooningham was at the store and buying something—don't know what—she said to Seawell, "you ought not to be so hard with me." He replied, "you girls don't do anything for me and you can't expect me to do anything for you; if you'd give me something I'd give you something." After she was gone Seawell said to me, "she is a nice girl."

Q. Did you not tell John Pool and his wife, last Sunday or Monday, that Seawell asked asked you last spring or summer if you thought she was virtuous and if you did not think he could get a chance at Columbia?

A. I don't think I said exactly that, but that I said what I stated a while ago.

REDIRECT.

Columbia said "you ought not to be hard with me." This was about the price of whatever it was she was buying. His reply was, "you gals don't give me anything and you can't expect me to give you anything." (Witness repeated what was said about her being a nice girl &c.)

Sarah Mial was called and sworn, but the first question, being about what she had heard Columbia Mooningham say in denial of any improper conduct towards her by Seawell, was objected to by the defense, so the question was withdrawn and the witness retired.

The article in the Observer of the 15th of September was then produced and read; Mr. Blake was recalled and stated that that was the article he wrote; he had sent it the same day of killing.

John Pool was call for the defense. Knows Thomas White; saw him last Sunday or Monday. He was at my house.

Q. (By the Court.) Did you hear him say that Mr. Seawell asked him at the store, some time last Spring or Summer, if he thought that he (Seawell) could get a chance at Columbia Mooningham.

A. That was what he said. It was at my house, last Sunday or Monday.

MRS. JOHN POOL.

Q. When did you last see Mr. Thomas White.

A. Last Monday morning, just before day.

Q. (By the Court.) Did you hear him say that Mr. Seawell asked him, sometime last Spring or Summer, at Blake's store, if he thought that he, (Seawell) could get a chance at Columbia Mooningham?

A. Yes, he did.

Here the evidence was closed and the Court took a recess of 15 minutes.

Argument was then opened by Solicitor Devereux for the prosecution. Mr. Devereux was quite unwell, suffering with a deep seated cold which rendered speaking difficult and painful.

He alluded to the solemnity of the case as involving the life or death of a fellow-being; he duly appreciated the responsibility of the Court and jury on the occasion. There were three questions to be answered; 1. Was Seawell killed? 2 If he was, who killed him? and 3d. Was the killing accompanied with that malice which constitutes murder.

It was proved and admitted that Henry Seawell was killed on Wednesday, the 13th of September last, by Andrew Mooningham, the prisoner at the Bar. The question that remains to be settled is, was the killing murder in the contemplation of the law.

Mr. Devereux laid down two propositions.

First, a malicious killing is murder, however gross the provocation.

Second, malice is presumed from the nature of the weapon used.

In explanation and support of these positions, he quoted Foster on Crown Law, p. 291; Wharton's Criminal Law, sections 970, 971 and 785; State vs. Merrill, 2 Dev. p. 269; State vs. Elleck Winston, p. 56.

He defined what constitutes murder and what manslaughter, and what will reduce murder to manslaughter; State vs. Smith, 77 N. C. 488.

In applying the law to these facts and evidence in this case, Mr. Devereux argued that the motive and only motive for the killing was the expression of the deceased to the prisoner, "you lie! you lie!" That this was conclusively shown by the declaration of the prisoner, "no man shall give me the lie," and what he said to the witness, Blake, afterward, why he did it, "because he gave me the lie, and I would hit you if you were to do it." It was nowhere shown in the evidence that the prisoner himself had at any time given any other reason for the act.

His conclusion was that, by the definition of murder quoted by him, the provocation did not justify the killing, and that malice was to be presumed from the weapon he used—the axe—in the killing.

Mr. Argo followed. After a few introductory remarks appropriate to the occasion, he stated that there are five degrees of homicide. 1st, when the killing is purely accidental; 2d, when founded in justice, as by an officer in the discharge of his duty; 3d, when the result of necessity, as in the defence of one's life, family, property, &c., termed usually justifiable homicide; 4th, unlawful or felonious homicide, done on the spur of the moment and heat of passion, without previous malice, and 5th, the killing with malice a prepense.

Mr. Argo then proceeded to the definition of these several degrees of homicide as laid down in the books. We notice some of these definitions which he claimed as applicable to the case before the Court.

A blow under circumstances of indignity reduces murder to manslaughter; Wharton on Homicide, p. 35, also 186 and 189, 77 N. C. 480.

Simple assault without battery will reduce murder to homicide; Wharton on Homicide, 418. Bishop's Criminal Law, sec. 657.

Provocations do not justify, but they do mitigate the degree of the homicide, Wharton on Homicide, 168. An assault or a blow are mitigating circumstances; and there are other cases of mitigation, as the striking of one's horse with a switch so as to make him leave the road, Wharton on Homicide 179; Hale's Pleas of the Crown, 187; Bishop's Criminal Law, 932.

What reduces manslaughter to justifiable homicide. 1st to prevent serious bodily injury, Bishop's Criminal Law, sections 644, 646. Cases of apparent danger to person, Wharton's Criminal Law, section 1,026, also 19.

Mr. Argo then proceeded to draw a parallel between the cases cited from the authorities and the circumstances attending the case now under trial. He argued that it was competent for the jury to take into consideration all the circumstances of the case, the character of the prisoner, his intelligence and capacity for judging the degree of danger of serious injury to himself under the circumstances in which he was placed. To sustain this position he quoted from Wharton on Homicide, pp. 228—229; 5 Tenn., 459. The State must make out its case in all points, Wharton's Crown Law, 255 and 290, and 3 N. C. 56.

He took up and sifted the evidence adduced by the State, compared the statements of witnesses, and argued that the mere menacing attitude of the deceased when he approached him and exclaimed "you lie!", though in itself sufficient to create an apprehension of personal danger in the mind of such a man as the prisoner, was not the only reason for striking the blow; it was simply the straw that broke the camel's back.

But we should do Mr. Argo injustice to pretend to give a full and correct report of his appeal for his client. It was clear, forcible, devoid of tiresome repetition, and was listened to with unabated attention and interest by the large crowd assembled in the court house; and at its conclusion he was congratulated by most of the members of the bar present and many of his non-professional friends.

Maj. Lewis will follow on the side of the defense this morning, and the argument will be closed by Mr. Badger for the prosecution.

A Long Felt Want.

Some of the city papers have spoken of the great need of a reading room, where the young men of our city might pass their evenings pleasantly and profitably. St. John's Guild, recently organized here, propose establishing a reading room, in connection with their society, and intend to occupy suitable apartments, conveniently located, furnishing the same with popular works, as well as the better class of journals, magazines, &c.

Many hours each day are now passed by a large portion of the youth of our community in idle, profitless conversation. Some of these young men are without homes here, having situations as clerks, &., and meet each other night after night, spending their time, of which each moment has a precious value, in such a manner. They have no homes to go to, they say, and the time that hangs heavy on their hands must be passed in some way, so they either adopt the plan above mentioned, or else seek more questionable and disreputable means of whiling away the hours.

The Library it is proposed to establish, while being under the control of a society of a denomination, will not be at all sectional, but all will be welcome to seek relaxation and instruction therein.

We earnestly wish for this library to be opened at the earliest possible moment, and trust that all who desire to spend their leisure hours properly, will promptly avail themselves of this opportunity to do so.

Colored Methodist Conference

The Colored Methodist Church of this State holds its annual Conference at Salisbury next week. Bishop Hood will be the presiding officer.

The State Conference of the M. E. Church, South, will occur at the same time, so Salisbury will be thronged with probably more ministers, than have ever before been gathered at any time in one place in our State, as it is expected that the number of delegates will be more than four hundred.

Farm and Plantation Bells

Complete, with hangings, can be put up in five minutes. Price from $4 to $10 each. The bells are well adapted for farms and plantations; they can be heard for miles. Write for full descriptions, prices, weights, fixtures of bells, &c. Church bells furnished at prime cost. Julius Lewis & Co., hardware merchants, Raleigh, N. C. *

No housewife should fail to call on J. C. Brewster and see the most extensive stock of house-furnishing goods ever brought to Raleigh. All kinds of dust and scrubbing brushes, butter kettles, French coffee pots, tea trays, child's trays, &c., &c. Stoves, heaters and ranges.

Personal.

James McKimmon, formerly of this city, now of Baltimore; Md., and Judge S. W. Watts, of Franklinton, are registered at the Yarbrough.

Discharge of the Grand Jury.

Yesterday at 3½ o'clock, the Grand Jury for the present term of Wake county Criminal Court came into court and presented to His Honor Judge Strong the following report of the condition of Wake county jail, and stated that they had disposed of all the business which had been brought before them, whereupon His Honor discharged them from further attendance during the term:

We, the jurors for the State, upon their oaths, present: We have examined the jail of the county of Wake; we have with great care taken the expressions of the persons confined in said jail, 1st, as to the food furnished them; 2nd, as to the treatment of said persons by the officers in charge; 3rd, as to the comfort of said jail.

We, the jurors, find that the food has been sufficient. We further find that the treatment has been uniformly kind; only one person in said jail making complaint. 3rd, the persons confined in said jail are made as comfortable as may be under the circumstances.

The Grand Jury further say that the means and appliances used for the prevention of exposure to the wind and cold in the cells down stairs are not sufficient. That the collection of lime in the corners of the cells, in conjunction with other chemicals, is positively injurious to the persons confined in the cells. That vessels used for the deposit of the excrement of the prisoners ought to be removed as quickly as possible. That the prisoners ought to be furnished with a tub of warm water, soap and towels at least once a week, and be counselled to use the same, in order to prevent the accumulation of lice in said jail, the complaint caused from said negligence being prevalent. That the county ought to furnish blinds to the cell windows down stairs, to protect the prisoners from cold and damp weather.

We further find the system of sewerage of the said jail is a disgrace to the county, and being located under the windows of said jail, is well calculated to sow the seeds of disease and death. We further find that the Sheriff and the officials under him, in charge of said jail, have faithfully discharged their duties. Respectfully submitted, (Signed.) W. H. Bledsoe, Foreman; Willis Parrish, V. C. Powell, Seth Jones, W. A. Smith, Sam'l Rogers, Gaston Jones, John Pollard, Atlas Upchurch, M. A. Partin, D. B. Buffalo, Fagan Perry, J. Duke, A. Jordan and J. J. Betts.

The Orphans.

We clip the following from the Orphans' Friend of this week:

"If you have raised any money for the Orphan Asylum, don't keep it; don't save it to carry to the Grand Lodge. We need it now. We are anxious to prepare for winter. It may snow at any time, or a cold rain may come."

In this connection we again suggest that the cause and the wants of the Orphan Asylum be remembered in a practical way on next Thursday, Thanksgiving day. It is to be regretted that the continually recurring wants of the orphan poor, whom we "always have with us," should depend for supply upon the precarious contingency of transient contributions, but it would be more a subject of regret if these supplies should be withheld or only partially furnished.

The Masonic Fraternity of North Carolina is pledged to the support of the Asylum, but that Fraternity is entitled to the assistance of every other society, all the churches and every man and woman in the State, because the Asylum is open to all the white children of the State as far as its means will afford. But still the Masons stand in the relation of trustees, directors or guardians of the institution under whose auspices it is conducted, and they ought and no doubt will, if possible, adopt some plan at the approaching session of the Grand Lodge to place it on a permanent basis. There surely can be such a plan devised.

Grand Lodge of North Carolina.

OFFICE GRAND SECRETARY,
RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 7th, 1877.

The Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of North Carolina will commence its Ninety-First Annual Communication at its hall, in this city, on Tuesday, 4th December next, at 7 o'clock P. M.

Return tickets can be obtained by officers and representatives on application, over the railroads, &c., at the rates mentioned—six cents per mile for the round trip over the following:

Atlantic and North Carolina; Seaboard and Roanoke; Raleigh and Gaston; Raleigh and Augusta Air-Line; Wilmington and Weldon; Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta; Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta; Richmond and Danville, North Carolina Division; Northwestern North Carolina; Piedmont.

For one first-class fare over the Western North Carolina; Western (from Fayetteville) Carolina Central, Charlotte & Atlanta Air Line, and Dismal Swamp Canal. Representatives traveling over Carolina Central must exhibit their credentials to agents when they apply for tickets.

Round trip tickets will be issued on the Atlantic, Tennessee and Ohio Railroad at seven cents per mile. It is specially suggested that return tickets over all the routes mentioned are necessary to prevent the payment of full fare, except the Atlanta & Charlotte Air-Line, over which the Grand Secretary's certificate will be issued.

D. W. BAIN,
Grand Secretary.

Lecture from Gov. Vance.

Gov. Vance has been prevailed upon to deliver a lecture for the benefit of the Second Presbyterian Church, on the evening of Thanksgiving Day. The lecture will be delivered in Tucker Hall. The names of the committee of arrangements will be communicated to the public in a few days, together with other matters of detail. The subject of the lecture will be "The Demagogue."

"Tis True

That at Simpson's drug store you will always find a large variety of select and very choice cigars, and tobaccos. One purchase is enough to convince. Call early and you will call often. *

BUSINESS NOTICES.

J. C. S. Lumsden's stove and tinware house, Fayetteville street, makes a specialty of the "Old North State" Cook Stove, Little Harry night lamps and house furnishing goods of every description. Special attention paid to the repair of sewing machines, guns, pistols, tinware, old stoves, &c.

How it is Done.

The first object in life with the American people is to "get rich;" the second, how to regain good health. The first can be obtained by energy, honesty and saving; the second, (good health) by using GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER. Should you be a despondent sufferer from any of the effects of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Indigestion, &c., such as Sick Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Sour Stomach, Habitual Costiveness, Dizziness of the Head, Nervous Prostration, Low Spirits, &c., you need not suffer another day. Two doses of AUGUST FLOWER will relieve you at once. Sample Bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. Positively sold by all first-class Druggists in the U. S. *
